What Dóchas is about

Dóchas is a network. A meeting place of organisations committed to tackling poverty and inequality around the world

Through Dóchas, Irish Development NGOs and others come together to share their experiences, and to use those experiences to advance more effective ways to end all forms of poverty and injustice.

As part of Dóchas you can connect and collaborate with like-minded organisations, strengthen your knowledge and expertise, and influence key decision-makers at national, European and global levels. Through Dóchas, you can build your skills, add value to your work and that of the sector and help shape the direction of global development by sharing practical knowledge and resources.

Dóchas provides strength and coherence to the sector and identifies gaps and opportunities to ensure our members' work has the greatest possible lasting impact on global poverty and inequality.

Through Dóchas, NGOs are seeking new and effective ways to maximise their impact, by making use of the ideas and influence of all those who can make a difference – governments, companies, academia, media and civil society organisations.

Dóchas members believe in:

- ★ Putting people at the heart of development
- ★ Using a diversity of approaches to advance their common goals
- ★ Sustaining their impact by learning and evolving
- ★ Building networks of friends and allies
- ★ Increasing their impact by advocating for policy change
- ★ Setting standards of accountability and integrity

Types of membership

Dóchas has two types of membership:
Full Membership and Associate Membership

Applications for Full Membership are brought to the AGM for approval while applications for Associate Membership are decided by the Board of Dóchas.

Full Membership

Dóchas has a large and growing membership, diverse in focus and size and from across the island of Ireland. Dóchas' strength comes from this diversity of perspectives applied to a shared set of values and aims.

Organisations are eligible to join Dóchas as Full Members if they:

- ★ are working in international development (projects, education, emergency aid or volunteer sending)
- ★ are headquartered in Ireland, (or, the Irish branch has substantial powers of decision-making in its own right, including control and disposal of funds and appointment of personnel).
- ★ have been established in Ireland for at least two years
- ★ comply with Dóchas policies and criteria for membership (see Application Form)

Associate Membership

Dóchas introduced Associate Membership in 2013 as a way to contribute towards achieving these strategic priorities:

EMBEDDING global development more deeply in Irish life and civil society

SUPPORTING Dóchas' mission and improving the quality of development work

MAINTAINING and enhancing public support in Ireland for global development

BROADENING Dóchas' engagement and support base

Organisations / bodies are eligible to join Dóchas as Associate Members if they:

- ★ engage with or support Dóchas' mission, and do not meet the criteria to be full members.
- ★ work in related, supportive or similar fields to that of Dóchas They may be:
 - Trade Unions
 - University departments or research centres, colleges / other third level groups or associations
 - Medical / Nursing organisations
 - Charitable trusts and foundations
 - Trade / representative organisations
 - Private sector organisations or associations
 - Civil society /voluntary / community organisations
 - Other NGOs

Things to note:

- 1 If an organisation is eligible to be a Full Member it cannot apply for Associate Membership
- 2 All applicants must agree to comply with Dóchas policies as and when they apply to them
- 3 Associate Membership will be reviewed every 2 years.
- 4 Organisations committed to meeting the criteria for Full Membership may be Associate Members while so doing, but for no longer than two years.
